John Doggett, the eldest son of John and Mary Doggett of Northumberland County, Virginia, was born in about the year 1732, as he was under guardianship in Northumberland County in 1753, but was of legal age when his father's estate was divided in 1755. His mother, Mary, had remarried before 1753 to James Garner. In 1763, John Doggett purchased land in Mecklenburg County in southern Virginia, and moved to that county. It is not clear when or where John and Anne Garner were married, but they were certainly married when John's mother Mary made a codicil to her will in late 1766 or early 1767, as Anne is bequeathed Mary's saddle and bonnet in the codicil, recorded 12 January 1767. Anne Garner was the daughter of James Garner, the second husband of Mary, and therefore was John's step-sister. It is most probable that John returned to Northumberland County to marry Anne and that they soon thereafter moved to Mecklenburg County where John had established a homestead. John's brother Benjamin and several members of the Garner family, including Anne's brother, James, Jr., followed John and took up residence in Mecklenburg County or adjoining Lunenburg County. In 1790, John sold his plantation in Virginia and moved, with his wife and large family, to Columbia County, Georgia, where he died in 1804. In his will, dated 22 May 1804, and recorded in Columbia County records on 18 Jun 1804, his wife and nine surviving children are named, together with his deceased daughter Mary Lamkin. The only child listed above not mentioned in John's will is Williamson, who apparently died young. His inclusion is based on family information furnished to Samuel Bradlee Doggett in 1883 by descendants of John. The exact ages and order of birth of the children is uncertain. John was too old to perform active service in the Revolution, but he apparently furnished supplies to the Army, as Public Service Claims filed by him are of record in the Virginia Archives. These claims have not been examined by the writer. His sons were too young to have served in the Revolutionary Army.

122:1 MARY DOGGETT; b. abt 1768, VA; d. bef 1804; m. abt 1785, Mecklenburg Co., VA (Marr. Bond, 19 Dec 1785), CLEOPHAS LAMKIN, son of James and Winifred Lamkin.

122:3 JESSE DOGGETT; d. Columbia Co., GA.

122:5 JOHN DOGGETT; d. 1813, Jasper Co., GA.

The loose will of John Doggett, dated 1813, recorded in Jasper County records, is preserved in the Georgia Dept. of Archives and History. The will has not been examined by the writer. John was a Corporal in the Rangers, U. S. Volunteers, in the War of 1812. No specific information about this unit, or John's service is known to the writer. John's brother, Asa, served as a Private in the same unit, and John's will names Asa's heirs as beneficiaries. John and Asa both died during the time of the War of 1812, but whether their deaths were war-related is unknown.

Very little is known about this son of John and Anne Garner. He appears in an 1805 Tax List of Columbia Co., GA, with one poll. He probably had just turned 21 when this tax assessment was made, making his birth year about 1784. The Marriage Bond of Reuben Doggett and Betsy Lamkin, dated 24 Dec 1812, is of record in Richmond co., GA. Reuben died in Wilkes Co., Georgia, before 1820. He was a young man probably in his early 30's when he died. The marriage of Catherine Doggett to Benjamin Paulle on 6 Nov 1820 is recorded in Wilkes Co., GA, records. It is not clear whether this Catherine is the same person as Betsy, or a second marriage of Reuben. In any event, a daughter, Mary Marcier Williamson Doggett, is the subject of guardianship accountings under guardianship of Benjamin Paul in Wilkes County in 1821 and 1823. The writer's notes also include a reference to records in Wilkes County pertaining to the distribution of Reuben Doggett's estate in about 1831 to minor children Mary Doggett and Mariah M. Doggett. It is not clear to the writer whether there were two children or only one, and exactly what the names were, and the writer has not personally examined the court records, but has relied on printed extracts. Additional research is needed on this point.

Columbia County Marriage Records include the marriage bond, dated 19 Dec 1802, between Charles Clayton and Hannah Doggett, daughter of John and Ann Doggett. John's will, executed two years later, shows that the marriage was performed. The will of Charles Clayton, dated 19 Aug 1811, probated in Columbia County on 10 Feb 1812, refers to his wife Hannah and his children Nancy, Eliza and Mary Ann. Asa Doggett, his brother-in-law, was named as one of the executors. Hannah Clayton's will dated 26 Jul

1825, and probated 21 Nov 1825 in Columbia County, Georgia, names only her "legal heirs."

ASA DOGGETT

(John; John; Benjamin; Rev. Benjamin)

The basic source for data concerning Asa and descendants is Samuel Bradlee Doggett's History of the Doggett-Daggett Family (1894), supplemented by public records, census returns, and similar sources. Some information about Mary Elizabeth Doggett Rawls is from Broderbund's World Family Tree, vol. 9, #0170.

* 122:2 ASA DOGGETT, son of John and Anne (Garner) Doggett; b. 1770, VA; d. 1814, Columbia Co., GA; m. 1803, Columbia Co., GA (Marr. Bond, 3 Nov), ELIZABETH EUBANK, dau. of Richard Eubank. Elizabeth m(2) Mr. Ramsey.

122:25	Naomi	b. 1812	m. 1827 Joseph A. Marshall

Asa Doggett appears to have been the eldest son of John and Anne Doggett. SBD says that he was born in 1770 in Virginia, and he was executor of his father's will, which normally was the duty of the eldest son. The marriage bond of Asa and Elizabeth, dated 1803, is of record in Columbia County. Asa, along with his brother John, served in the Rangers, U. S. Volunteers, in the War of 1812. The writer has no specific information about his military service, but he may have died in service, as Asa's heirs are named as beneficiaries of John's will, and Elizabeth had remarried to a Mr. Ramsey by 27 Jan 1813, as indicated by court documents of record in Jasper County, GA, pertaining to John's estate. The will of Richard Eubank, Elizabeth's father, dated 27 Apr 1845, and probated 3 Nov 1847 in Columbia County, Georgia, refers to his daughter Elizabeth Ramsey and her children, and to her children by a previous marriage, Richard and John Doggett. No mention is made of the three daughters. At the date of Richard Eubank's will Elizabeth was living in Lincoln County, Georgia. No examination of Lincoln County records has been made by the writer to see if additional information pertinent is contained therein.
