built for Deborah, who married General Cotton; and the home of Gus Alston, now occupied by Mrs. N.J. Dark.

Phillip Alston, half-brother of "Chatham Jack," lived on Deep River in the House in the Horse Shoe. Another half-brother, William, who lived in Chatham, married Sarah Yeargin, and their daughter, Anne, who married Edward Rives, has many descendants in the county today. With the death of Lacy Alston in 1958, the last descendant by the name disappeared from the county.

Space forbids recounting any of the stories which center around the colorful "Chatham Jack."

The Rives Family

Spelled variously Reve, Reives, Reeves and Reaves, the Rives family, of French origin, came to America from England in 1655. Thomas Henry Rives came to Chatham County about 1790, possibly because of friendship with the Goldston family, bought land from William Goldston and built his home, called The Barraks.

One of the eight children of Thomas, Edward and his wife, Mary Ann Alston Rives, built their home, Peddlar's Hill, between Meronies Methodist Church and Goldston.

Many descendants of the early Rives live in the Bear Creek and Goldston areas. They married into Turner, Edwards, Thweatt, McMath, Wilkinson, Brooks, Kirk, Smith, Reid, Goldston, Marsh and Headen families.

Goldston

William, Charles and John Goldston (sometimes spelled Gholson or Ghoulson) were three brothers born in Scotland, who came to Chatham just ahead of the Rives family. There were many marriages between the two families.

Charles and John lived for a time along Deep River, part of their land being in Moore and Randolph Counties. William settled between Rocky River and Bear Creek to Tick Creek west. He fought in the Revolution and was a captain in the state militia. One of his grandsons was Joseph John Goldston, Jr., for whom the town of Goldston was named. Fanning harbored special hatred for William Goldston, expressed the desire to kill him and did burn his home.

Minter-Morgan-Womack

John Minter (wife Elizabeth Morgan) moved into Chatham County about the time it was organized. Their daughter, Judith (Judy), married Abraham Womack, who was living in Orange County in 1770.

August 1772 Court Records show that Anthony Minter, John's brother, bought 140 acres of land lying on the fork of Cape Fear River from James Riddle. This transaction was signed by Joseph Brantley, John Minter, Morgan Minter and Jeremiah Minter. Morgan Minter married Joanna, daughter of Col. Robert Rutherford.

In 1775 John Minter deeded 120 acres on the northeast side of Deep River to Abraham Womack, who in 1778 bought 200 acres in Chatham County from Jeremiah Minter. In the National Archives there is record of commendation to Womack for his Revolutionary service. In preparing to leave Chatham County to live in Georgia, Womack in December, 1784, sold his land on Deep River to John Ramsey.

Other prominent members of the Womack family were Judge Thomas B. Womack, of Pittsboro, and his brother, Francis, who designed the present court house.

Alston

Titular head of one of Chatham's distinguished early families was Joseph John Alston, Jr., (1767-1841), who was called "Chatham Jack."

While there are many stories to substantiate the fact that one or two of the Alstons were in Chatham County during the Revolution the record of "Chatham Jack's" entry is 1791. He came from Halifax County. Much of his father's wealth has been left to him and he came to own 40,000 acres in Chatham County and many slaves. Nearly all of the land along the present Highway 64 from Pittsboro to Siler City was Alston owned. It was on this land that he built his home and homes for his children. "Chatham Jack's" home stood near the present Ward Snarr home and he is buried in the family cemetery nearby. Three of the Alston homes still standing: Aspen Hall, home of son Gideon; the Degraffenreidt home, Chatham was formed as a county from Orange in 1770 so whether that is same Abraham as yours I would not be prepared to say because yet two other Abrahams or more were in N. Carolina early. One died in Caswell, whose parent county is also Orange. With so many parties by same given name and last names in area and no early church records to divide up the names from deeds and probates and other court abstracts we cannot be certain that the 1770 Orange reference might as well refer to the early Abraham who died in Caswell county, or the Abraham who was in North Carolina from Va. and went on to Hancock county and was there at same time as your guy, only died in Hancock in 1797. You see the amazing amount of parties by name Abraham Womack in same general areas or bordering counties in North Carolina then Georgia early. To further complicate matters in checking the IGI 1992 edition, I find someone has submitted your Abraham who married the Judith Minter and stated that they married in Goochland county, Virginia in 1775, yet shows children Charles and William as born before that year? in 1770 and 5 May 1772. #6020006, sheets 12,13. Also in same reference claim made that his parents are Abraham Womack and Ann, same as ancestral file entry. Marriage of That Abraham to Ann given as 1743 of Goochland. #6020767 sheet 57 for marriage. Amazing!

WIFE Judith (Judy) MINTER-906

IGI 1992 edition, #602006 sheets 13,12 shows Abraham womack as marrying Judith Minter 1775 of Goochland county, Va. and children Charles born abt. 1770 of Goochland and William born 5 May 1772, misc. source with no birthplace stated, but exact birthdate given. CHILD 1 William WOMACK-907

NOTES:

IGI 1992 #602006 sheets 12,13, claim Abraham Womack of Goochland county born abt 1744 with wife, Judith Minter, also claimed of Goochland county, son Charles claimed to be born abt. 1770 of Goochland and brother William with exact birth date, given from Miscellaneous reference to place of birth. Marr. of parents stated in 1775, yet children listed as born several years before that. Abraham Womack he reported father was in Chatham county, N. Car. and Orange county, N. Car. during the time frame this IGI entry claims children born in Goochland? Need to check deeds for Goochland and see what they prove or disprove about this matter?

This man probably born to one of many Womack families in early Virginia records, then moved into bordering county of Granville and went further west from there. One of his daughters married in Caswell and this is proven to be his daughter from the married name of her husband matching the marriage earlier in Caswell. This man close in age approximately to your Abraham and living for a time in same county in Georgia but your Abraham died later in Monroe county, Georgia. Both of these Abrahams are close in age and both were in N. Carolina previous to coming into Hancock county, Ga. Since they are close in age, they may be cousins.

HUSBAND John MINTER-908

NOTES:

Chatham county Will book A, pg. 50, John Minter will dated 1797, names dau. Judith Womack, via corres with Stephen Kirk in his Womack summary. Chatham county 1771-1971, #975.659H2hwh, pg.410, Minter-Womack data stating John and Elizabeth Morgan his wife, moved into Chatham abt. time is was organized.(1770) Anthony Minter, John's brother bought 140 acres of land on fork of Cape Fear River from James Riddle. Wit; Joseph Brantley, John Minter, Morgan Minter and Jeremiah Minter. 1775 John Minter deed 120 acres of land NE side Deep River to Abraham Womack. This being the case then the IGI 1992 reference giving your Abraham Womack's two sons as born in Goochland county and parents being married in 1775 in Goochland would not seem to be accurate at all. Your John was selling land in 1775 in Chatham county and no reference in deed that he had come from or was going to Goochland county, Va that same year. Chatham Co., N. Car. deeds abstr.#975.659R2L, pg.31 John Minter & wife, Elizabeth, 6 Nov. 1774 sell 100 acres N. side Deep River to Abraham Womack. Orig. granted Thomas Armstrong by his majesty 20 April 1745. Wit: Jas., Thos., and Benj. Brantly, pg. 48 John Minter Sr., sells to Ambrose Ramsey, 3 acres 9 March 1779, pg. 60 N. Car. State Grant to James Holden 1 July 1779, 240 acres Haw River in fork, joins Jeremiah Minter. An Abstract of N. Carolina wills, 1760-1800 by Fred Olds, pg. 59 Chatham county in year 1796 two probates cited Philip Minter with heirs James, Celia, Elizabeth and Joseph; William Minter with wife Sally and other heirs Richard, Elizabeth, Polly and Sallie. Abstracts Land entries, Chatham county, N. Car., #975.659R2B #58 Abram Womack 5 March 1778 enters 200 acres, an improvement he bought of Jeremiah Minter N. side Lick Creek waters of Cape Fear River, issued 12 June, grant delivered. Genealogies of Va. Families from Va. Mag. of History and Biog., Vol V, pg. 870 Orange county, N. Car. deed abstracts.

Stephen Kirk also sent me a reference to Essex county, Va. wills, by Virginia Genealogist, vol. 15, pg. 148, vol. 16, pgs. 223,224 will and guardian for under age children of John Minter of Southfarnham parish, Essex dated 7 Oct 1743 and proved 20 March 1744. This older John, had a son, John and under age children (under 21) William, Thomas and Lucy, whose guardian was their mother, Frances in 1744. In Torrence's index to Va. Wills and Adains, 1632/1800 shows early Mintons also in county of King George, Jos. Minton 1739 inv. and Thos. Minton 1744 Inventory. In Richmond county Edward Minty 1745 will and Margaret Minty will 1755. Wills in 1770's-1780's in Cumberland, Essex, Fau., Powhatan counties. Whether this older John is the father of this John at this point I am not certain. More records in Essex would need to be searched to see if the son, John, moved away about time your John appears in Chatham, North Carolina. Also original will in Chatham on John who died there would be helpful, too.

Joanna, Dau. of Col. Robert Rutherford.

CHILD 3 Elizabeth MINTER-911

NOTES:

In Stephen Kirk's summary sent me by corres, he states that Elizabeth was born 1749 and married William Burns. He also examined will in will book one for John Minter in Chatham county, N. Car. wills for his compilation on this family.

CHILD 4 Phillip MINTER-912

NOTES:

Stephen Kirk's summary about family rec'd via corres. including data he examined in Chatham county, will Bk A on his father's will, John Minter, 1797. History states no issue for Phillip but the will abstracts in An Abstract North Carolina Wills by Fred Olds, pg. 59 shows 1796 Phillip Minter - heirs or children, James, Celia, Elizabeth and Joseph Minter. Whether those people are children or other heirs is not known from the abstract. Original will should be examined to determine relationships, etc.

This is a work sheet and is not meant to be complete or connections from generations to generations necessarily accurate. Torrence's Virginia wills and Administration index 1632-1800, pg. 467 shows Rich'd Womeck 1684 inventory, Henrico and Richard Womack, administration 1730, Henrico. None of those would be a Richard with a son born in 1742 with both dying before 1742. IGI Richard Womack b. 7 Dec 1710 Henrico, parents Richard Womack, Elizabeth Puckett, index 1988, may or may not be same Richard who had son born in 1742, but is closest Richard to right time frame to be Abraham's father, age 32 when Abraham would be born. HUSBAND William WOMACK-930

NOTES:

Cumberland county, virginia will book 2, pg. 518-519, film 030738, Wm. Womack will, wife's name not cited, 4 sons, Wm. (oldest son), Macenella (Massenello), Charles, Nathan, executors of their father's will, youngest children supposedly not of age, but not cited as which ones in will, or whether cited or not? IN IGI Abraham Womack the III, is supposed to have a son, William born 1720 in Henrico county, Va. This seems to be best William in age as a possibility for this William who died in Cumberland. However, there may be yet another William just as suitable but that didn't appear in known records?

William of 1720 in my computer previous sheets was Rin #915 if you wish to compare that family against this man's family. Another possibility in IGI William Womack born 19 Jan 1724 Bristol parish, Prince George county, Va. parents William Womack and Martha.

Betsy Aiken and son, Charles, land owned by her husband, Nathan Womack. 1992 edition IGI, #F500390 - 0003, son Charles listed. already in file under name Massanello (Rin 804, no parents listed.) while father's will shows given name spelled Macenella, Cumberland county, Va. wills, book 2, pg. 518/519 William Womack, will dated 1 Jan 1786 Proved 26 Sep. 1791, sons Wm., Macenello, Charles and Nathan executors of their father's will. IGI Virginia 1988, #5002408 - 31, children and marr. of parents abt. 1641 Bermuda Hundred, Henrico, Va. Because of early date for marriage and not many people being in Virginia that early, it is possible that the couple migrated after marriage and were born overseas. Have read earliest abstracts for this county. History of Henrico county, Va. 975.5453H2m, pg. 59 Horse racing in county between horses owned by Abram womack and richard Ligon at Bermuda Hundred in July 1678. Possible son of this William involved in this Horse racing, or other early Abraham cited by age in Henrico court abstracts.

Virginia Will & Admin. Index 1632-1800 by Clayton Torrence searched an no William in right approximate age of death in Henrico or bordering counties or a county heading south towards North Carolina.
